Regarding correct information on Scientology

Because Ulf Brettstam has made statements on The Church of Scientology to media and authorities we hereby disclose this material, which rebutes most of his statements.

We are surprised that a person in a responsible position does not take a direct contact with us and thereby gives us the opportunity of comment before such unlikely statements are publicly spread.

No respect has been taken to the serious governmental investigations conducted.

In the US our motherchurch was granted taxexemption 1993 after a 40 year more or less intense investigation in wich none of Brettstams allegations were unfamiliar. Finally these allegations were found unsignifiquant.

IRS Sweden found in 1999 the church to be beneficial for the public and nonprofital. Church of Scientology in Stockholm, Gothenburg and Malmö were registered as religious bodied March 2000. Our church has been granted the right to marrie.

A governmental investigation was done during 1996 – 1998 concerning new religious movements in Sweden. Conclusion was that media was full of desinformation and frisky hearsays. The whole flora of Brettstams allegations was on the table at the time, but government made an investigation of their own. (SOU 1998:113) "In good faith, society and new spiritualism.

Brettstam is showing disrespect to a world religion wich today counts 9 million adherents. We want to remind the recievers of this letter on the law of freedom of religion and The European convention on Human Rights.
